

Earth Fare

the healthy supermarket

Internship Opportunities

1. Marketing Copy Writing

Do you have an adaptable written voice that can move from technical explanation to newspeak and beyond? Do you want to further hone your ability to write inspiring copy, informative blurbs, and educational materials? This internship will help you do all that by allowing you to research food ingredients, processing & history as well as current medical & nutritional studies on food health and safety, crafting that research into content for team member trainings, customer flyers, brochures, press releases, sign copy & web content.

Unpaid, project-based internship, 15-20 hrs per week, employee discount available (20% off).

REQUIREMENTS: Strong writing, grammatical, research and communication skills. Proofing & editing skills a must. Interest in health, wellness and food a plus. Must submit writing samples showing creative and technical range.

2. Web Development & Social Marketing

Outgoing, sassy, snarky and healthy...Does this describe you? Show us you've got what it takes to be the next big Earth Fare social media/communications intern. Help leverage social media platforms to spread the word about our awesome company. Food perks and product perks. You must be • A great writer and researcher – lots of writing involved • Passionate about and fluent in social media tools (i.e., blogs, facebook, twitter, etc.) • Have a deep personal interest in health, food and retail • Full of positive attitude and high energy • Known for your sense of humor • Able and willing to work from home with an internet connection.

Unpaid, 15-20 hrs per week, employee discount available (20% off).

REQUIREMENTS: if you are interested, you know what you need to do this.

3. Human Resource Recruitment

Are you known as a keen judge of character? Can you analyze a resume and determine if someone has the skill set and fortitude for a given kind of job? Earth Fare is growing and our HR department needs help finding the right people to guide us on our growth. This internship will review resumes & applications; conduct specialized resume searches within a centralized database; identify and profile prospective candidates; assist with telephone pre-screens and reference checks; and respond to telephone inquiries.

Unpaid, 10-15 hrs per week, employee discount available (20% off).

REQUIREMENTS: Strong verbal communication skills required. Ability to make sound assessments when evaluating an applicant's background/skill set. Individual must be highly organized and able to work in fast-paced, deadline-oriented environment.

Resume, letter of intent, any additional required materials and references may be submitted to careers@earthfare.com for consideration. EOE.